

Undergraduate Internships (484)

Information about internships (484)

- Internships can take place in the fall, spring or summer
- One student can do several internships
- Students can get course credits – get a faculty member to sponsor you:
 - Contact a faculty member in your department and ask if they are willing to act as faculty sponsor during your internship.
 - In order to get course credits you will need to submit assignments and/or coursework as determined by your faculty sponsor.
 - Fill out the “request for approval to take 484” form
Link to general 484 form: <https://www.tamug.edu/admissions/Forms/484Internship.pdf>
Please note: your department may have department specific 484 forms or applications procedures. Make sure you contact your department and departmental advisors for further information.
 - Contact your faculty mentor and department to learn more about on-campus internships
